

Seeking future leaders in planning

High school students can apply for one-week free summer internship

Do you have a high school student (or know one) that is creative, analytical and has a passion and desire to make the world and communities a better place to live? Then we've got an opportunity for them!

The Chicago Metropolitan Agency for Planning (CMAP) is now accepting applications for its 2023 Future Leaders in Planning \(FLIP\) program. FLIP is a free summer program for high school students to explore the field of urban planning and learn about the issues that shape our region and communities. Students learn about planning topics through engaging sessions, activities, and site visits.

When: Monday, July 10, through Friday, July 14, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Where: CMAP's office in downtown Chicago (433 W. Van Buren St.), plus locations around the region

FLIP is open to high school students in Cook, DuPage, Kane, Kendall, Lake, McHenry, and Will counties. The program is completely free to students, and includes snacks, meals, public transportation to and from sessions, and swag.

Students must apply online by Tuesday, May 30. Learn more at www.cmap.is/FLIP.
